Institute Description: Although classroom teachers and instructional coaches may have studied the new California ELD standards and perused resources within the appendices, many remain significantly challenged to design and implement effective lessons that bolster academic speaking and listening competencies within either a designated or integrated ELD course of study. One unfortunate consequence is that ELD instructional decisions may amount to who should be teaching what and when, rather than the consistency and integrity of the instructional practices used to advance oral language proficiency and learning throughout the school day. Another outcome is that vulnerable English learners are constantly adjusting to new classroom activities and strategies that prevent them from reaping the purported academic benefits.

Drawing from research and extensive classroom practice, Dr. Kinsella will focus on a core set of potent instructional routines appropriate for any ELD curriculum, content area, or grade level. Participants, ideally in site-based teams, will leave with extensive practical print and digital resources to support lesson delivery, professional development, and coaching initiatives.

Participants will learn essential ELD instructional routines including effective ways to:

- ◆ Provide mindful modeling of academic language throughout lesson delivery
- ◆ Engage learners at every English proficiency level in academic discussions
- ◆ Facilitate productive student interaction and collaboration with clear language targets
- ◆ Design and assign response frames that model and scaffold competent communication
- ◆ Encourage thoughtful elaboration and justification during lesson discussions
- ◆ Guide students in constructing brief written responses using academic register
- ◆ Integrate accountable listening tasks with clear language targets
- ◆ Set up lesson tasks with verbal clarity, visual support, and requisite modeling
- ◆ Check for comprehension of lesson expectations and focal content
- ◆ Monitor language production during student interactions and class discussions
- ◆ Provide timely, actionable feedback on verbal production errors
- ◆ Write effective language objectives addressing academic interaction demands

Kate Kinsella, Ed.D. is an adjunct teacher educator at San Francisco State University and a highly-sought after speaker and consultant to school districts and state departments throughout the US regarding development of academic language and literacy across the K-12 subject areas. Her 25 year teaching career focus has been equipping youths from diverse backgrounds with the communication, reading and writing skills to be career and college ready. A consummate “teacher’s teacher”, Dr. Kinsella maintains active K-12 classroom involvement by writing and implementing curriculum, co-teaching lessons, and providing practical mentoring for teachers and instructional coaches. Her extensive publishing record includes articles, chapters, English learners’ dictionaries, English Language development curriculum, and reading intervention programs. She is particularly proud of the research validated and extensively implemented programs she has written to support English learners in making academic strides: READ 180, English 3D, and the Academic Vocabulary Toolkit.
